VIRTUAL WORKSHOPS

Number of learners:
Over 1,000

Theme:
Welshness

Learners from all over the country took part in virtual workshops to celebrate Welshness. E-sgol invited schools across Wales to join the workshops, in partnership with the Library, to learn more about:

- The White Book of Rhydderch (The Mabinogi)
- Cambriae Typus Map 1573
- William Morgan's Bible 1588
- Ashely Williams painting by Owain Fôn Williams
- Clip from the opening ceremony of the 1999 Rugby World Cup
- Hen Wlad Fy Nhadau manuscript

There was an exciting digital quiz in each workshop to remind the learners of the content of the presentations and add a fun and competitive element.

e-sgol

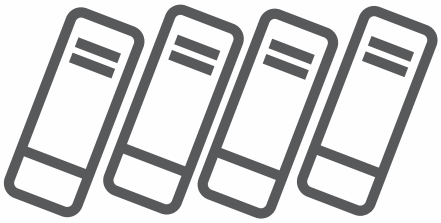

E-sgol is a project funded by the Welsh Government assisting schools to aim for equity in terms of provision and experiences offered to their learners. We do this by:

- forming collaborative partnerships between secondary schools to expand post-14 and post-16 provision
- offering professional development to secondary school staff as they deliver their courses online
- assisting primary schools to offer diverse opportunities and experiences to their learners
- supporting Welsh language education nationally

CHAMPIONS

A TRIP TO THE NATIONAL LIBRARY OF WALES

There was a competitive element to the virtual quizzes - a chance to win a free trip to the National Library of Wales. Two workshops were held through the medium of Welsh and two through English, and the winners were invited to compete in a special quiz: Champions of Champions!

THE WINNERS

Ysgol Mynydd-y-Garreg and Ysgol Treferthyr were the winners in the Welsh language quizzes.

Ysgol Tycroes and Pentip Primary School were the winners in the English quizzes.

The school classes were invited to the Library to compete in the quiz.

LISTEN AND LEARN!

Learners explored the building on guided tours in the morning, attentively absorbing key facts about the Library. The facts would later become the questions in the highly anticipated Champions of Champions quiz held that afternoon.

QUIZ TIME!

The quizzes took place in the Drwm, where e-sgol staff led the event using the interactive educational app Kahoot to spark friendly competition. The atmosphere was electric—filled with cheers, laughter, and celebration—as learners passionately supported their peers.
