Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1942-43

Disgrifiad / Description

A valuable collection of approximately 1,250 volumes from the library of the donor's father, the late Griffith Evans, MD, DSc, some of whose books formed part of a large donation of manuscripts and printed material received last year (see Annual Report, 1941-2) (Dept of Printed Books). It is the library of a scientist and thinker rather than that of a collector, and the books are practically all modern. While the owner's main interests were scientific, his library betokens a vital interest in the deeper problems of religion, philosophy and the social and political development of man. Only a complete list of authors and titles, which will be undertaken as soon as possible, could give an adequate idea of the scope and variety of this collection.

Such a large collection of modern books naturally contains many which are already in the Library. The donor has given the Librarian permission to use these duplicate copies for external loan to classes and individuals. A selection will also be made of standard works of fiction and other light literature, which, again with the owner's permission, will be distributed among the sanatoria and tuberculosis hospitals of Wales.

Pauli Aresii . . . De aquae transmutatione in sacrificio Missae . . . disputatio. Derthonal, Typis Nicolai Violae, 1622 (Dept of Printed Books).

Paolo (or, as he was christened, Cesare), the author of this work, was bishop of Tortona (Derthona) in Northern Italy from 1620 to 1644, and was noted in his day as a preacher, philosopher, theologian and patron of letters.

Books printed at Tortona are now very scarce. This is a good, clean copy in limp vellum, and the title is printed in red and black with the arms of the bishop in woodcut.

The Trial and life of Eugene Aram; several of his letters and poems; and his plans and specimens of an Anglo-Celtic lexicon. By Michael Fryer. Richmond, 1832 (Dept of Printed Books).

Eugene Aram, the prototype of Bulwer's novel of that title, was born in 1704 at Ramsgill, Yorkshire. In 1759 he was found guilty of murder and executed. Aram was a self-taught scholar of undoubted ability, and specialised in languages. He was among the first, if not actually the first, to perceive the affinity of Celtic to other European languages, and his 'Anglo-Celtic lexicon,' although it is vitiated by the tendency, common in his day, to see the Asiatic relative of European languages in Hebrew, will always deserve mention in the history of Celtic philology.

Disgrifiad / Description

An extensive collection of manuscripts and books made by the donor during his remarkable literary and scholastic career.

Among the manuscripts are poems, lectures and addresses, including the author's holograph manuscripts of Ymadawiad Arthur a Chaniadau Eraill, 'Y Gloyn Byw', 'Morvudd gan Ddavydd ap Gwilym. Adwe o'r Chwedl gan Edvryd', poems by 'Rhufawn', 'Ymadawiad Arthur' and an English translation of the same poem, etc.; draft revised Welsh translations of the Epistles of St. Paul (to the Galatians) and St James, and notes for a translation of I Corinthians; press cuttings and notes of addresses, essays, reviews, etc. a dictionary of 'Gogynfeirdd' poetry in three volumes; a large number of notebooks containing transcripts of Welsh poetry mainly of the 'cywyddwyr', and a beautifully executed transcript of the 'Black Book of Carmarthen'; and thousands of letters addressed to the donor on literary and historical subjects.

Among the manuscripts are some acquired by Dr T. Gwynn Jones. They include extracts by Walter Davies ('Gwallter Mechain') from a copy of 'Llyfr Coch Asaph' and other manuscripts, a small volume of elegies by Morgan Evans, Llangunllo, 1830, a collection of Welsh poetry made by Owen Williams about 1850, a notebook containing 'englynion' by Dr Robert Roberts ('Isallt'), commonplace books by 'Emrys ap Iwan', odes on 'Y Mynydd' and 'Iorwerth y Seithfed' by O. G. Owen ('Alafon'), and a school exercise book of Jane Roberts.

The printed material consists of about 600 volumes, some hundreds of booklets, pamphlets, reports of societies and eisteddfodau, concert programmes and a large number of periodicals.

Long runs of Welsh and Breton periodicals, some of them scarce and very difficult to obtain, form an important part of the collection.

The books cover a wide range, although naturally books relating to the Celtic languages and literatures predominate. The collection also includes works in English, French and German, and a few in Italian.

The booklets and pamphlets, mostly Welsh, although there are considerable numbers of Irish, French and German publications, relate mainly to literary topics, and many are autographed copies. This section contains a large number of works by minor poets not hitherto represented in the Library. Many of them were published privately or by small local presses.

The reports of societies, eisteddfodau and other cultural institutions are very numerous and make a considerable addition to the already extensive collection in the Library.

Three original drawings by S. Maurice Jones and a small collection of engraved portraits and topographical prints are included in the gift.

The donor has given the Librarian absolute discretion with regard to the disposal of the material. Any books which are likely to be of service in the sanatoria and tuberculosis hospitals of Wales and Monmouthshire, or to members of HM Forces, may be applied to these purposes. Books which can be of use in connection with the extra-mural classes may be transferred to the department of duplicates and sent out on loan. Of the remainder, the Librarian is authorised to offer to the university colleges of Wales and other institutions any books not required by the Library.

MORRIS PARRY

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1942-43

Disgrifiad / Description

The Morris Parry, Chester, Collection. (See Journal of the Welsh Bibliographical Society, July 1943, pp. 42-4.) Thanks to the good-will and co-operation of his trustees, the Library has been able to purchase the library, both books and manuscripts, of the late Morris Parry, Chester (d. 1943).

For many years Morris Parry had collected copies of Welsh books printed in Chester and many English books relating to Wales which were also printed there. These he described in detail from time to time in the Welsh newspapers Y Brython, Y Clorianydd and Y Cymro. Subsequently a few copies of these press contributions were bound by him into volumes, each prefaced by a chronological conspectus. It is proposed to retain intact this collection of Chester printed books as an example of the output of the printing presses of one town. The collection is particularly strong in ballads, pamphlets and periodicals.

The manuscripts include notebooks of John Price ('Ioan Machno'); a commonplace book by Isaac Ambrose Lloyd, 1823; a collection of poems by Robert Hughes (Neuadd y Blawd); sermon notes; a collection of autographs including letters by R. Brereton, 1620, and Owen Hughes (Beaumaris), 1675, and papers relating to excise, militia and ordnance, 17th-18th cent.; transcripts of letters concerning a protest against Rev William Williams ('Caledfryn') as an adjudicator, 1863; a minute book of 'Cymdeithas Cymry Caer', 1893; addresses and essays by Morris Parry and files of biographical and bibliographical material collected by him; press cuttings, loose and mounted, and the following numbers of Morris Parry's made-up volumes of press cuttings, with printed title page and preface, under the title of 'CRIBIN CAER' - Series 3, No. 5 and two unnumbered issues, Series 4, Nos 1-44 and ten unnumbered issues, and Series 5, No. 23 and three unnumbered issues.

Fifty lantern slides of views of old Chester and title-pages of Chester-printed Welsh books.

A large collection of engraved topographical prints, portraits, photographs and other miscellanea.

Incunabula purchased during the year include:

(1) Summa collationum, by Johannes Gallensis, printed at Cologne by Ulrich Zell, c. 1470. The author, usually called John of Wales, is supposed to have been a Welsh Franciscan. He was a professor at Oxford and Paris and an envoy to the insurgent Welsh in 1282. This work is considered to be the first work by a Welshman ever to be printed. This edition also is apparently the first, being earlier than the edition described in Addenda and Corrigenda to the Handlist of Incunabula in the National Library of Wales (No. 13A). Ten leaves inserted at the end contain, in manuscript, alphabetical tables of the topics and of the authors quoted in the work. Both are by the same hand and the former is dated Sept. 6, 1483.

(2) De vocabulis rei militaris by Modestus, printed by Eucharius Silber, Rome, 1487. An interesting example from an early Italian press.

(3) Works, with commentaries and appendices, of Publius Papinius Statius, printed by Jacobus de Paganinus, Venice, 1490. A specimen of the work of an Italian press not hitherto represented in the Library.

The Right Honourable Lord Bagot, Blithfield.

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynnyddol / Annual Report 1942-43

Disgrifiad / Description

THE BAGOT COLLECTION OF DEEDS AND PAPERS, removed from Blithfield, Staffordshire, and numbering more than 2,000 schedule items. This is in addition to several boxes of later deeds and papers, which Lord Bagot had earlier placed on deposit, from the bomb-wrecked offices of Messrs Foyer, White and Prescott in Essex Street, London. The Blithfield section of the deposit had been removed there from Pool Park, Denbighshire, when that residence was sold in 1928.

The present group divides itself conveniently into four classes:

1. MINISTERS' ACCOUNTS. These all relate to the estates of the Devereux, Lords Ferrers and Chartley and consist of twenty-one rolls ranging from 6 to 10 Henry IV and 17 Henry VIII to 5 Edward VI. The Ministers' Accounts proper number nine rolls from 17 Henry VIII to 4 Edward VI and include accounts of Bicknor, Llanthomas and Hay, Penkelly and Webley. The remaining twelve rolls consist of Receiver Generals' Accounts, two for the years 6-8 and 8-10 Henry IV and ten ranging from 17 Henry VIII to 5 Edward VI. This class forms an invaluable addition to the collection of Ministers' Accounts which the National Library is steadily building up.

2. DEEDS. The deeds, most of which have already been catalogued in detail, number 1,149. They range from 1260 to the eighteenth century and cover lands in the counties of Denbigh, Merioneth, Caernarvon, Montgomery, and Flint, though the great majority relate to the two first-named counties. The Denbighshire deeds date from the reign of Henry III to the eighteenth century, and those for Merioneth generally from the reign of Henry VIII to the eighteenth century. The great majority of the deeds for both counties cover the second half of the sixteenth century and the seventeenth century, with a few of the eighteenth century. For the respective properties in those counties, the Rhûg estate in Merioneth and the Bachymbyd and Pool Park estates in Denbighshire, the deeds are comprehensive and form a most valuable acquisition. They cover the lordships of Denbigh, Ruthin and Dyffryn Clwyd, Bromfield, Maelor Saesneg and Glyndyfrdwy, with a number by barons of Edeyrnion and Dinmael. The great interest of many of their items is evidenced by the full particulars relating to four which appear in the 1943 number of The National Library of Wales Journal. The first is the only known grant of David ap Gruffydd, 1260, of lands in the modern counties of Denbigh and Caernarvon; the second the only known grant by Owen ap Gruffydd of Glyndyfrdwy (Owen Glyndwr) of land at Mwstwr, 1392; the third an exceptional valuation in Welsh of lands of Rhys ab Elise, a baron of Dinmael, about 1530; the fourth a certificate (1657) by a Welshwoman from Merioneth of the death in 1655 in 'the island of Virginia' of a servant who had gone there with her and her husband about a year previously.

3. LEGAL PAPERS. This class numbers 219 items, most of which are concerned with the Chancery suits between William Salesbury of Rhûg, the heir of Owen Salesbury, the eldest son of Colonel William Salesbury, and Sir Walter Bagot, Bt., the husband of Jane, the daughter and sole heiress of Charles Salesbury, his second son. These causes ran from 1674 to 1677. Of greater public interest are the papers relating to the indictment of Gabriel Salesbury for forgery of a deed by Colonel William Salesbury, the defendant's flight abroad, and his subsequent repentance.

4. CORRESPONDENCE AND MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS. Items in this class which have already been perused in detail total more than 400. The correspondence, which provides the greatest number of items, is mainly of the seventeenth century. The items of the sixteenth century are of special interest. Letters of 1564 and 1577 from Jenkyn Gwyn to John Salesbury of Rhûg relate to Edeyrnion, one of them stating that 'it is held by servitium baroniae every jot of it, for all are barons or hold by grant from the barons, which is one'. A letter of October 5, 1580, from Anne, Countess of Warwick, has the pathetic endorsement 'a worthy honourable letter from the Lord and Lady Warwick to my father upon his deathbed'. Among other correspondents are Sir John Trevor, later Speaker and Master of the Rolls, Godfrey Goodman, bishop of Gloucester, Myddeltons, Wynnes and Thelwalls to the Salesburys. Among valuable items in the miscellaneous papers are some relating to the tithes of Llanynys, 1652-3; the sequestration papers of William Salesbury and his son Charles; papers relating to the barony of Dinmael, 1660-1751; rentals of the Denbighshire and Merioneth estates from 1611 onwards; and Salesbury and Bagot wills.

An extensive collection of several thousand documents and papers, which divides itself into three main groups:

1. Kentchurch Court estates records and papers, illustrating the history of the Scudamore family from the time of Edward I. They include a series of manorial documents relating to the lordships and manors of Llangiwa, Monmouth, Usk, the Three Castles of Skenfrith, Grosmont, and Whitecastle, Caldicot and Shirenewton, Llanddewi Skirid, Llantillio Pertholey, Llanfihangel and Llangattock, co. Monmouth, and Ewyas Harold, Rowleston, Gwergenny, Dore and Llancillo, co. Hereford. The deeds from the reign of Edward I onwards relate to twenty-one parishes in co. Monmouth and fifteen in co. Hereford. This group also contains a number of legal papers (including Council of the Marches in Wales papers), orders of Quarter Sessions, co. Monmouth, and some manuscript papers of literary interest.
2. Harford Jones Brydges estates records and papers, relating especially to the Radnorshire and Herefordshire estates of the Harford Jones family from the reign of Edward III onwards, and also to lands in the city of London and in the counties of Buckingham, Devon, Essex, Salop, Somerset, Worcester, Middlesex, Northumberland, Gloucester, Sussex, Warwick and Lincoln (including manorial documents from the reign of Edward VI). The manorial documents cover the Radnorshire manors of Burward, Bilmore, Norton and Michaelchurch, and among the twenty-two Herefordshire manors covered are Pembridge, Huntingdon, Clifford, Lugharness, Goderich, Kilpec and Garway, all sometime in the Marches of Wales. The deeds relate to sixty-six parishes in co. Hereford, sixteen in co.

Radnor, especially Radnor and Presteign, nine in co. Brecknock, and five in co. Carmarthen, and there are a number of miscellaneous papers relating to co. Montgomery.

3. Diplomatic and other papers of Sir Harford Jones, afterwards Sir Harford Jones Brydges, Bt., mainly covering 1787-1810. The papers consist chiefly of letters and despatches to and from East India House and the Principal Secretary of State, and correspondence with various Ambassadors and Ministers of the Crown, the Governor-General, and other Governors. Among the correspondents are George Canning, Stafford Canning, Robert Dundas, Lord Minto, Lord Wellesley, Sir Charles Cotton, Benjamin Bathurst and General John Malcolm. There are also reports, instructions, minutes, extracts from journals, letter books and accounts, and miscellanea. The papers are in English, French, and Persian and other Arabic languages. They cover the period from Harford Jones's service as an official of the East India Company to his retirement from his post as His Majesty's first Ambassador to Persia, those dealing with the last period being the most important historically. In addition to the diplomatic and official papers, there is family correspondence of Harford Jones and of his father, also named Harford Jones, from Monmouth, and various papers and accounts relating to the re-purchase of the ancestral property in Radnorshire.

A group of manuscripts from Boultonbrooke, the Radnorshire home of the Harford Jones family, was acquired by the Library in 1924.
