Disgrifiad / Description

Supplementary Report.

The National Library was granted by the executor, Professor Aaron, the first choice of books from the valuable and extensive collection of the late Rev Herbert Morgan, MA (Dept of Printed Books). The books selected have now been catalogued and classified. Approximately 1,500 books and pamphlets were chosen, of which some fifty were transferred to the Department of Duplicates. The books selected for the general library are mainly foreign works, German, French and Italian. Most of them are on doctrinal and Biblical theology and on the philosophy of religion, with a few on modern German metaphysics. There is a considerable number of books on the sociological implications of Christianity, a subject in which Mr Morgan was keenly interested.

Several important trends of Roman Catholic and Protestant religious thought in Western Europe are well represented, including, in particular, a large number of the works of Loisy and the Catholic modernist school, written mostly in French and Italian. In fact, there seems to be a copy of practically everyone of Loisy's books in the original French edition. It is no exaggeration to say that there is in the collection a copy of practically every important foreign book on the subjects named, published during twenty or thirty years of Mr Morgan's active life as a student and preacher.

A feature of the collection is the large number of volumes belonging to German and Italian series of popular books on educational subjects, especially theology and philosophy. Many of these belong to the well-known Sammlung Goschen, while there are over eighty volumes of the interesting and useful series of Religionsgeschichtliche Volksbucher founded by Michael Schiele.

The value of the whole bequest to the Library cannot be over-estimated. It ranks with the bequests of Dr Witton Davies and Dr Tudor Jones, and the three collections taken together form what must be a unique collection of books on religion in general and Christian theology in particular - subjects which should make a special appeal to Welsh students. English books on these subjects, and the few Welsh ones, are received under the Copyright Act, and it is the Library's good fortune that bequests like these secure for it the best of the foreign books also.

Letters addressed to members of the Owen, Ormsby and Ormsby-Gore families by F[rancis] G[odolphin], 1733, L[ewis] Owen, 1741, Ell[en] Godolphin, 1747, J. Kynaston, Penrhose, 1777, M. Owen, Datchet, 1777, W. Ormsby, Liverpool, 1777, H. R. Williams, Penrhos, near Caernarvon, 1825, Robert Vaughan Richards, Caerynwch, 1831, Lord Powis, 1836, and others. The majority of the letters are of a personal nature, but Lord Powis refers to preparations against rioters, and Francis Godolphin states that 'they talk of nothing at Oxford but a Publick Act, which Mr Handel is to Celebrate with two Oratorios and a very fine new Composition of Musick but yet does not take his Degree but will assist any body else . . .'

Letters relating to the management of the family estates in Merioneth and Caernarvonshire, addressed principally to Mary Jane Ormsby-Gore by James Spooner, Secretary and Engineer to the Ffestiniog Railway Company, 1851, Robert Barker, Glyn, Talsarnau, estate agent, 1851-2, J. J. Brown, rector of Llandanwg, 1855, Thomas Jones, vicar of Llannor and Denio, 1856-7, John Edward Parry, Glynn Hall, Talsarnau, estate agent, 1856-60, and others. The main subjects of discussion, apart from estate repairs and property leases, are the building of Harlech church, 1855, the construction of the Portmadoc Railway, 1856, and the re-building of Llannor church and the purchase of the vicarage house, 1856-7. Rentals of estates in cos. Merioneth and Caernarvon, 1775, 1787-8, 1815-6, and of the Abertanat estate in cos. Salop, Denbigh and Montgomery, 1743-7.

Miscellaneous documents. They include proposals by the freeholders of the manor of Whittington [co. Salop] relating to the enclosure of commons, 1766; a pedigree of the family of Godolphin, 1789; eighteenth-century English verses by William Gore and others; a balance sheet of Barmouth National School, 1851, a printed list of subscriptions for the restoration of the parish church of Cemmes, co. Montgomery, 1858; accounts and correspondence relating to the liquidation of Ardudwy Farmers' Association, Ltd, 1912, and the formation of the Talsarnau Farmers' Co-operative Society, 1914; and some deeds relating to properties in the townships of Maesgwyn, Llanerchrochwel and Broniarth, co. Montgomery, 1754, the parish of Cricieth, co. Caernarvon, 1839, and in co. Roscommon, Ireland, 1770.

Miscellaneous documents relating to the Brogyntyn estates. They include a commission to Sir Francis Eure and Anthony Blinco to hear and settle disputes between Thomas Whorewood and Elizabeth Brome, 1614/5; a copy of a lease of Tythyn William ap Griffith ap Rees in Llechiddior; a brief in an action between John Weld and Richard Adams, 1654; an agreement between Dame Margaret Owen and Richard Wynne of Ryton, 1698; settlements before the marriages of William Owen and Mary Godolphin, 1735, and William Ormsby and Hannah Wynne, 1743; articles of behaviour and misdemeanors against Nicholas Davies of Maesbury; letters by Edward Owen, 1735, Francis, Baron Godolphin, 1767, W. Three volumes of Dolau Cothi Correspondence, including a letter-book of John Johnes, 1836-44, and autograph letters of John Johnes, 1816-29, Sir John Moore, S. Johnes Knight, and Lady Louisa Shelley.

A miscellaneous collection of twelve works in five volumes, of interest chiefly because of the autograph signatures and book-plates contained in them. For example, there is a presentation copy of James Beattie's The Minstrel to Mrs Siddons. Another volume contains the autograph and book-plate of William Cowper and a third the autograph of Lord Tennyson.

Correspondence relating to the Northern Carmarthenshire Agricultural Society, 1873-4; and obituary notices of Colonel Bassett, 1842, and Dr Rowland Williams, 1870.

A piece of sculpture, in the form of an ornamental vase upon a pedestal, made in 1803 by Thomas Banks, RA (1735-1805), for Thomas Johnes of Hafod. The relief on the vase represents a girl (according to the traditional story Mariamne Johnes, the only child of Thomas Johnes) seated at a small altar mourning the death of a robin which she had tamed.

On the pedestal are the following verses, which had become almost illegible, by Samuel Rogers (1763-1855):

AN EPITAPH ON A ROBIN RED-BREAST.

Tread lightly here, for here tis said
When piping Winds are hushed around,
A small Note wakes from under Ground,
Where now his tiny Bones are laid.

No more in lone and leafless Groves,
With ruffled Wing and faded Breast,
His friendless homeless Spirit roves:
Gone to the World where Birds are blest.

Where never Cat glides o'er the Green
Or School boy's giant Form is seen;
But Love and Joy and smiling Spring
Inspire their little Souls to sing.

The sculpture, which formerly stood in the grounds of Hafod mansion, about twelve miles from Aberystwyth, has been set up in the grounds of the National Library.

Two extensive collections of books of a miscellaneous character but mainly religious, topographical and historical (Dept of Printed Books). Both collections include some interesting sixteenth-century editions of the classics as well as books in French and German.
A framed water-colour by Joshua Cristall (1767-1847) entitled ' Reverie- A Peasant Girl, Barmouth, N. Wales ', and signed ' J. Cristall, 1842' (Dept of Pictures and Maps).
Manuscripts from Moynes Court, near Chepstow, Monmouthshire. They include account books of John Jones, Llansanfrede, 1822-6; accounts with a diary of a tour in South Germany by E. Jones, 1842; household and garden accounts, 1862-93; farm memoranda, 1852-3; poor rate books for the parish of Llansantfread, 1849-75; a diary of the Monmouthshire hunt, 1892-3; notes on numismatics; and correspondence.
Photographs of Moynes Court (reconstructed c. 1609 by Francis Goodwin, bishop of Llandaff, 1601-17, according to Sir Joseph A. Bradney: A History of Monmouthshire) and a collection of engraved topographical prints of Monmouthshire interest (Dept of Pictures and Maps).
A framed pencil portrait, heightened with white, by W. Smith, of Apollonia Mary Jones, February 1830 (Dept of Pictures and Maps). She was probably the daughter of John Jones of Llanarth and Treowen (d. 1828) and Mary his wife (d. 1855) and later married Mons.-- Rio of Brittany.
Further extensive collections of books (Dept of Printed Books). These, like earlier collections presented by the same donor, came from country houses chiefly in South Wales. Most of them are leather-bound and many bear bookplates of former owners, including several members of the family of Lord Glanusk. They cover a wide range of subjects and include many books in foreign languages, including works in Latin, French, German and Italian.
Over eighty printed works, including a large number of English comedies and farces published by T. Hailes Lacy in the first half of the nineteenth century (Dept of Printed Books).
Sixteen volumes of The Art Journal; a water-colour portrait drawing, 1835, of a Monmouth family, a collection of woodcuts from early printed books, and a miscellaneous collection of engravings (Dept of Pictures and Maps).

A manuscript volume entitled ' A miscellaneous collection containing great variety of matter, both sacred and moral . . . 1743 ', enclosed in an Elizabethan needlework binding with an elegant design in gold thread on black or deep purple silk with jet insertions (NLW MS 14882B).

A fine copy of the German translation of Historia Animalium, by Conrad Gesner, the Zurich doctor and professor of medicine (1516-65) (Dept of Printed Books). This work, first published in four volumes in 1551-8, and later in an enlarged edition of five volumes in 1669-70, was the outstanding zoological work of the Renaissance. The German translation was apparently published in three separate parts, the Vogelbuch in 1557, and both the Fischbuch and the Thierbuch in 1563. This copy consists of the three parts bound in one volume, the second part, however, coming first, followed by the first and third.

It is a large folio volume bound in stamped pigskin vellum elaborately tooled. The very numerous woodcuts of animals, birds, and fishes, some of them startling in their imaginative ingenuity, have been skilfully painted in by hand, the result being a realistic presentation of natural colouring.

CORPUS CODICUM SUEVICORUM MEDII AEVI

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1947-48

Disgrifiad / Description

Corpus Codicum Suevicorum Medii Aevi, Copenhagen, 1943, etc. (Dept of Printed Books)

Seven volumes of this work have already been published. The aim of the promoters of this undertaking was to preserve, by means of facsimile reproductions, all the most important medieval manuscripts of Sweden. The result has been the publication of a work worthy to stand by the side of the great Corpus Codicum Islandicorum Medii Aevi. In many respects, indeed, the two works supplement each other, especially in the field of law. The law manuscripts form the oldest class of Swedish manuscripts, the earliest dating from the early thirteenth century. They contain rich material for the study of Scandinavian ways of life in the period when Christian culture was only just beginning to make its influence felt. Manuscripts of religious content, especially those in Swedish, were largely written and preserved in the Convent of St. Birgitta at Vadstena, founded in 1384, while those of secular interest, such as romances, chronicles, court records, etc., were chiefly preserved by laymen.

The volumes of this work vary in size from small to large quarto according to the size of the original manuscripts. All are uniformly cased in half vellum. The reproduction of the facsimiles has been markedly successful and the text is clear and easy to read. The introductions are in Swedish and English.

Lieut.-Colonel J C Wynne-Edwards, Plas Nantglyn, Denbighshire.

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1947-48

Disgrifiad / Description

The original manuscript of a diary of contemporary events compiled and kept by Robert Parry of Eriviat (b. 1564). As the ' diary ' now stands it begins with the year 1559, with only a few words remaining of the entry for 1558. It ends with a copy of ' An answer to the menacinge and warr-denouncing l[ette]re of the great Turke by Sigismond Kinge of Polonia & Sweden . . . ', 1613. The ' diary ' contains many references to Denbighshire families, accounts of court activities, and a lengthy account of the author's tour in Italy in 1600.

Two pedigree rolls (a) the achievement and part of the pedigree of Gilbard Gearrarde, esquire, with the pedigree and achievement of Edward Almor of Pant Yockyn, compiled by Rys Cain, 1602, and (b) the pedigree and achievement of Lady Elizabeth Salesbury, daughter of Walter Vaughan of Golden Grove, and wife of the Right Hon. Sir Henry Salesbury of Llewenny, compiled by John Cain, 1623.

A notebook, partly written by Robert Wynne in 1637, containing copies of warrants and precepts to the high constables of the hundred of Isaled in connection with their duties (apprehension of petty constables, mizes, assessments for bridge building and repair, relief of prisoners, musters, examination of weights and measures, alehouse recognizances, house of correction, &c.), 1636-57; pedigree of the Wynne families of Garthmeilio and Nantglyn; englynion by Foulk Wynne, Edmund Price, Roger Kyffin, and Richard Phylip; a copy of the survey of the commote of Isaled, 1608; rentals of Isaled and Kinmerch; a copy of a letter from the King of Morocco to the King of England; directions concerning pigeons; an account of the Caerwys Eisteddfod, 1567; a chronology of events during the civil war period; notes of books lent; a list of sheriffs of Denbighshire to 1693, and other memoranda.

A small notebook containing an incomplete essay on bleeding; an estimate of the lands in Nantglyn liable to mize, 1667; pedigrees of North Wales families; a catalogue of books, English and Welsh; a list of hearths in Isaled; particulars of mizes and of the division of the decays of Ruthin.

A volume of Welsh poetry and some prose items written late in the eighteenth century. The poetry includes 'cywyddau', 'englynion', and 'cerddi' by Watkin Klywedog, John Davies, Edward Morris, William Ellis, Hugh Morus, Huw Machno, Edward Cadwaladr, Llywelyn ab Owen, Robin Ddu o Fon, Thomas Prys, Sion Cain, Sion Tudur, Sion Cent, Sion Phylip, Ellis Rowland, Myrddin, Taliesin and David Morris. The prose consists of proverbs, a fragment of a work entitled 'Trysor Cyfoethog o bris isel', and a translation of John Sayer's Office and Duties of Constables, Churchwardens and other Overseers of the Poor . . . 1641, under the title 'Swydd a Dyled Penagiaid sef Constablied Adilad sef Wardenied Eglwysydd ag eraill golygwur y Tylodion'.

A miscellany partly written by Foulk Wynne of Nantglyn and partly by Robert Lloyd of Segroyd, millwright, c. 1670-90. It contains English and Welsh poems and acrostics by Ffoulk Wynne, and 'cywyddau', 'englynion', and 'cerddi' by Harry Salusbury, Edward Cadwaladr, Edward Moris, Ifan Brydydd Hir, Edmunt Prys, Sion Cent, Dafydd Nanmor, Robin Ddu, Simwnt Vychan, Sion Tudur, Edward Sirck, William Llyn, Gruffydd Hiraethog, Edward Rowland, Hugh Owens, John Gruffydd ap Ieuan, Hugh Morus, Mathew Owen, Rice Cadwaladr, Edward Rowlant, John Richard and Watkin Klywedog; sermon notes in Welsh and English; and miscellaneous memoranda.

A volume, mainly consisting of prayers, in the autograph of Ffoulk Wynne. The majority of the prayers are collected under the title 'Gweddiau Gerard gwedi eu dosparthu am bob dydd o'r wythnos'. The same hand has written some curious prophecies, 'englynion' by Gabriel Wynne, and verses by 'Brenin Jerusalem'.

A notebook containing Latin exercises by Ithel Jones, fragments of poems in Welsh and English, including an English poem on the coronation of James II; notes relating to Hopeowen tithe; and accounts for barley, malt and straw.

A notebook containing Latin and Greek exercises; a list of books for the education of a daughter; lines on the death of the bishop of Salisbury; tithe hay accounts and accounts by M. Wynne. The manuscript was written from 1721 to 1727.

The London Almanack for 1742 with diary entries for 1741-7 by an alderman of Denbigh.
