Disgrifiad / Description

Papers of David William Bateman (1898-1967) comprising poetry, prose, and music. There are thirteen files of poetry, 1947-65, some typescript and some holograph; one file contains a letter, 16 July 1951, from K. M. Baxter, author of the play 'Gerald of Wales'. There is also a number of loose sheets containing typescript poems, a few grouped together as if in preparation for publication under the titles 'Ten Poems', 'Seventeen Poems', and 'Under Moon and Stars'; a typescript copy of The Chosen One (Fortune Press, 1952), with reviews and letters; and press cuttings of poems which appeared in the Western Mail, The Tribune, and The Spectator, 1962-6.

The holograph prose material includes five chapters of 'The Flower and the Grass, a satire'; essays on 'Benevenuto Cellini and his autobiography' and 'The Age of Saints in Wales', and notes of an address on 'Some Legends and Traditions of Teifyside', 1948. There is a typescript copy of 'Vignettes and Silhouettes: a miscellany' which appears to be prepared for publication, and also typescript essays on 'The Interpretation of History' and 'A Glory that was Spain'.

The music is all holograph and consists of songs composed to words by the composer and others,-- some of these were broadcast in recitals in 1937-8, a few descants, and hymn-tunes.

There are also two volumes, 1950-62, containing press cuttings of book reviews by David Bateman, published in the column 'For your Bookshelf' in the Western Mail, with letters from Fred Blight, C. A manuscript volume, recently repaired and rebound, containing 'The Pedigree of Rice Vaughan Esqr. one of the Auncients of Grayes Inne in ye Countye of Middlesex' based largely on a 'card' or pedigree drawn for Rice or Rees Vaughan by Robert Vaughan of Hengwrt, 1652, which is here reduced into book form and continued with additions to 1685 by Henry Vaughan also of Grays Inn [and Gelli-goch near Machynlleth, co. Montgomery], elder son of the said Rice Vaughan (NLW MS 13051B). (For Rice Vaughan [d. 1670] see The Dictionary of Welsh Biography down to 1940 (1959), p.1005; he married Catherine, eldest daughter of Robert Wilcox of Brandon near Coventry, co. Warwick, esq., and Henry Vaughan married Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. Thomas Hyde (d. 1666) late of Sarum, co. Wilts.). The greater part of the volume (pp. 17-214) is devoted to 128 coats of arms, some blazoned, which were in 'Rundletts' in the original pedigree by Robert Vaughan, but which are here 'putt att length', each one being brought down to Rees Vaughan and Henry Vaughan. These are preceded (p. 11) by a copy of a covering letter from Robert Vaughan, Hengwrt [sic], 25 October 1652, to his 'Cousen' Meredith Lloyd concerning the 'card' or pedigree of Rice or Rees Vaughan. The present order of the pages preceding this letter, some of which are lettered, others numbered, appears to be slightly different from the original order; these pages together with pp. 222, 224-50 contain coats of arms and pedigrees added by Henry Vaughan (Vaughan of Corsygedol, Vaughan of Macchenlleth [sic] (Rice Vaughan Esqr.), Henry Vaughan himself (with his relationship to other families), and Hyde of Cheshire). The lettering on the spine appears to have been 'Pedigree of H.V.'. Loose inside the volume is a letter, undated, from George Agar Hansard to a Mrs. Edwardes, said to be the sister of Emily Alicia Davies (nee Palmer).

A copy, also repaired and bound, of Rice Vaughan: Practica Walliae; or the proceedings in the Great Sessions of Wales ... (London: Printed for Henry Twyford, John Streater, and Eliz. Flesher, Assignes of Richard Atkins and Edward Atkins Esquires, 1672).

Disgrifiad / Description

Reports of Mr. Llewellyn-Taylor's valuable gifts to the Library have been a pleasant and regular feature of the Annual Report for close on forty years, and this year again he has generously donated a wide selection of printed books and journals ranging from the sixteenth century to recent publications (Dept of Printed Books).

The earlier period is represented by the works of Saxo Grammaticus (Paris, 1514); Michel Menot (Paris, 1526); Cicero (Paris, 1535); St. John Chrysostom (Antwerp, 1536); Tertullian (Paris, 1545); St. Anselm (Venice, 1547); John Calvin (Geneva, 1550); and St. Bernard of Clairvaux (Geneva, 1589).

Literary and historical works form a prominent part of the material relating to the following three centuries, while many of the modern publications reflect the donor's philanthropic interests in the preservation of wild life and the improvement of the English countryside. Of more general interest are two papers (printed) by Lawrence W. Chubb, secretary of the Commons and Footpaths Preservation Society, on 'Town Planning Schemes and Open Spaces', 1916, and 'The Reservation of Open Spaces under Town Planning Schemes', 1924. There are also printed appeals, circulars and correspondence with the Midland Re-afforesting Association, 1913-25, the Vacant Lands Cultivation Society, 1916-18, the Ken Wood Preservation Council, 1922-3, the South Bucks and Thames Side Regional Joint Town Planning Committee, 1927, the Wimbledon and Putney Commons Extension Fund, 1912-18, the London Society, 1929, the treasurer of the Selsdon Wood, Surrey, Nature Reserve and Bird Sanctuary, 1926-32, and with the town clerk of Worthing relating to the prevention of building on the downs, 1928; correspondence, printed appeals, and handbooks respecting the restoration funds of the Priory Church of St. Bartholomew the Great, West Smithfield, 1923-31, and the Stoke Poges Church near Slough, 1923-4; and correspondence and appeals relating to the Summer Time Willet Memorial, 1926-7.

Letters, circulars, and miscellaneous papers relating to the Friends of St. George's Memorial Church, Ypres, 1956-8, printed memoranda and agenda relating to meetings of the Solent Protection Society, 1960-7; and letters from A. R. Wagner, Richmond Herald, to the donor respecting the latter's donation to the College of Arms Trust, 1960, etc.

A journal of a midshipman in H.M.S. Ranger and H.M.S. Doris on service in South American waters, 1825-8. Beginning at the end are transcripts of late 17th and early 18th century accounts of Thomas Nepiker, rector of Bepton, co. Sussex.

Disgrifiad / Description

Three letters in Latin, the one by, and all three relating to the work of, Humphrey Llwyd (Lhuyd) (1527-68), physician and antiquary (NLW MS 13187E). Llwyd's letter, partly in his own hand, was written on his deathbed at Denbigh on 3 August 1568 to his friend Abraham Ortelius, the distinguished Antwerp geographer, and accompanies a map of Wales drawn by Llwyd together with two maps of England by him and fragments of his description of Britain. The latter was published under the title

Commentarioli Britannicae Descriptionis Fragmentum (1572) and Llwyd's letter appeared as an introduction to the text. According to a note by Ortelius at the foot of the letter, Llwyd died on the following 31 August. The other two letters, also addressed to Ortelius, are written by two Catholic brothers, members of the Owen family of Plas-du in Llanarmon, Caernarvonshire, the one by Robert Owen from Douay, 2 November 1570, and the other by Hugh Owen from the house of the Earl of Arundel in London, 2 January ?1571. To Hugh Owen was entrusted the responsibility of delivering Llwyd's letter from Denbigh to London. Robert Owen inquires whether the map and description of Britain have arrived, and Hugh Owen gives 'imperishable thanks' (gratias ago immortales) that Ortelius has received them.

LEWIS ROTELY

Blwyddyn / Year

Adroddiad Blynyddol / Annual Report 1967-68

Disgrifiad / Description

A collection of miscellaneous papers, 1804-64, relating mainly to Major Lewis Rotely (1785-1861), of May Hill, Swansea, who, as a junior Lieutenant of Marines, had served with Nelson on the Victory at Trafalgar (NLW MS 19984E). After his retirement from the Navy, the Major played a prominent part in the political and municipal life of Swansea and achieved locally great distinction as an amateur actor. Items of interest include letters, 1840-5, from well known actor managers such as Charles Bass, G. G. Norman, and Charles Fenton concerning theatrical affairs and requests to him to appear on the stage; a petition signed by prominent citizens of Swansea, asking him to return to the stage after many years' absence to take part in a benefit for Mr. Barry, and his draft reply giving his consent; a bill (printed) advertising the performance of Hamlet at the Star Theatre, Swansea; and a request to the proprietors of the Swansea Theatre to grant its use for one night to enable Mr. Moncrief to appear there for the benefit of the Swansea Infirmary. Of political interest is the poster announcing the withdrawal of Rotely from the parliamentary candidature for the borough of Swansea, 8 December 1832; an election song (printed) entitled 'Vivian for Ever', 1832; a draft address to the electors of the Upper and Lower Ward of the borough of Swansea; a letter (draft) refusing nomination to the Swansea Town Council on account of age; and a letter from a Chartist to Rotely, 9 February 1840, warning him to desist from anti-Chartist activities. Rotely's jealousy of his honour is shown by a notice (printed) repudiating a charge of cowardice respecting a duel between him and Dr. Howell, 5 August 1831.

There are also correspondence of a personal and legal nature, legal papers, bills, and drafts of addresses and of letters to the press.

EVAN WILLIAMS

1968119

Blwyddyn / Year

Disgrifiad / Description

Two volumes (529, 108 pp.) containing poetry, in English, with a few transcripts of letters and extracted notes, by and largely in the hand of Evan Williams, who describes himself as a native of Aberavon and 'a self taught Neath Man' (NLW MSS 19749-50D). Some of the poems are dated within the period 1831-49, and some have been written from 'Tybourn' ('Tyborn') and Arundel Castle where apparently the author was successively employed. The author declares on two occasions (vol. 1, pp. 491, 519-20) that through a 'clericle error' he was incorrectly surnamed- 'call'd Evan and Anne Williams son, and not of Evan, and Anne Lewis', but no evidence of this has been discovered and the only person in the bishops' transcripts of the Aberavon parish register between 1770 and 1812 who can possibly be identified with the author's description of himself is the Evan, son of Evan Lewis, collier, and Anne Lewis, who is said to have been born on 29 August and baptised on the following 23 September 1781. Among the titles of poems of Welsh interest are 'Men of Neath' (vol. 1, pp.147-70); 'Men of Aberavon' (vol. 1, pp.355-419); 'Sent to the Neath Museum from Arundel Castle', 1846 and 1847 (together with a letter, 1846, covering the gift of a stuffed owl). 'On a Flower sent me pick'd of Pelenna River side in Wales 1843'. 'On my disapointment of getting the Post Office Master's place at Neath'; 'To the Revnd. - Morgan, Vicarage, Aberavon . . .' (together with a letter, 1847, covering a subscription towards the enlarging and rebuilding of Aberavon Church); and 'Lines written on the occasion of the road that of old led from the Merra Neath to Lantwit being reopened 1849...'

The first group, 1859-62, contains about 180 items in all, consisting chiefly of holograph letters, memoranda, etc., together with the agreement signed by Richard Bentley, 4 February 1860, and copies of letters from Lady Llanover herself, some in her autograph.
